

... and not a student has entered its halls.

Oh, it's well designed. Every possible construction concept, every possible environmental detail, every possible comfort variable was investigated before the plans were completed.

But they took communications for granted. And, especially in a school, if communications aren't the most modern available, the building's obsolete before it's even begun.

Coming are carrels with direct phone access to a resource center. Closed-circuit TV areas. Direct access by teletypewriters to a computer. Theatres that will use multi media to instruct.

Many of these education communications concepts will influence the actual shape of tomorrow's schools.

All will require forethought as to capacity and flexibility.

And that's where a Bell System

Architect and Builder Service Representative comes in. He can make your next school—and every building—as modern as modern communications can make it. And insure that communications needs of the future will fit in without expensive alterations.

Just call 212-393-4537 collect. We will send you a complete list of our Architect and Builder Service Representatives.
